OVER TWELVE YEARS SUPPORTING OUR K-9 TROOPS!

MORE THAN 580 MILITARY WORKING DOG TEAMS SUPPORTED!

154 Deployed Military Working Dog Kennels Supported

More than $154,539.00 of supplies shipped down range!

<http://www.war-stories.com/odap/ws-odap-index.htm>

Hello everyone! We are currently supporting five (5) kennels and eleven (11) deployed Air Force, Army, Navy, and Marine teams as of March 15, 2018. March 2018 brings us to twelve years and eight months of operation for our “Old Dawgs & Pups” program. Once again, I’d just like to say thank you to all of you that have supported our awesome programs and especially our troops and their canine partners. We are currently supporting troops at seven locations in Southwest Asia. We have one (1) new troop to introduce this month.

Area of Operation Status - K-9 Teams arriving in the AOR

Due to the worldwide security issues and concerns for safeguarding our troops, we will not be listing the names of the bases or countries, in which our troops are deployed. All locations will be listed as “Undisclosed Location Southwest Asia” (UDL). We are currently supporting troops at five locations in Southwest Asia.

Undisclosed Location Southwest Asia #2 – 386th ESFS: SSgt Kody Rowlett & MWD Frenky are deployed from the 355th SFS, Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona. One of our newest “Old Dawgs” and former “Pup” SSgt Kenten Yates will support the team during their deployment.

End of Watch - (R) MWD Mushe - October 01, 2008 - March 10, 2018

The 355th SFS, Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona, lost another hero. RMWD Mushe (R067) crossed the “Rainbow Bridge” on March 10, 2018. The “Mush Man”, one of the most brutal hitting MWDs ever at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, was enjoying life at Ft. Living Room with SSgt Kody Rowlett and his family in retirement. MWD Mushe served three tours with OD&P with SSgt Aaron Escalante (Afghanistan 2011/AI Udeid 2013) and SSgt Sean McKenna (Al Dhafra 2014). Mushe, you will be missed and you are a hero! We salute you for your service in protection of our country. Rest easy Mush Man.

Air For Paws – First Response Resuscitation Kits (OD&P Partner)

www.AirForPaws.com

It is our goal to provide lifesaving Air For Paws Resuscitation Kits to locations that support Military Working Dogs in the United States and around the world. We’ve shipped 420 Air For Paws Resuscitation Kits, valued at $42,000.00, to the 115 Military Working Dog detachments and treatment facilities in Southwest Asia, Europe, Africa, Pacific Commands, and stateside locations for MWD teams serving in the US Air Force, US Army, US Navy and the US Coast Guard.

K9 handler learns from her canine student

By Staff Sgt. William Banton, 386th Air Expeditionary Wing Public Affairs / Published February 23, 2018

SOUTHWEST ASIA -- Moments ago, the joys of playing with a rubber toy were all he could think about; but now his posture has changed. Senior Airman Nicole Meyer, 386th Expeditionary Security Force Squadron, military working dog handler, deployed from Moody Air Force Base, Georgia, waits patiently and reassures him the training will begin soon. Nido, a Belgian Malinois, is ready to work. This is Nido's third deployment, second to his current undisclosed location, and Meyer laughs joyfully describing how he clearly remembers the location.

“Oh he definitely remembers,” she said. “Like the vehicle search pit, it's not always the most exciting thing in the world but he knows what he has to do and you can tell.” Speaking to Nido in a melancholy tone, which sounds smaller and more child-like, Meyer says “we are going to the pit today aren't we.” It is a testament to her bond with Nido, that she can punctiliously describe his emotional reaction to the location before they have arrived.

This is Meyer's first deployment as a handler. She graduated from the military working dog technical school approximately a year ago and has worked with dogs for a few months before she found out she was deploying and assigned Nido, a more experienced and confident dog. Meyer said the differences between a seasoned military working dog and a younger dog is as different as the colors black and white. She compared her first dog Buster to a toddler, young and energetic but new.

“It's pretty much like when you get to your first [station] as an airman 1st class and you're linked up with a staff sergeant,” she said. “That's Nido, and Buster was that airman 1st class.” Meyer says Nido doesn't require as much hands-on instruction, which has helped her overcome self-doubt, allowing her to build trust in her furry companion. “When I first picked him up, I doubted myself a lot. I thought I had to intervene when I didn't have to and presented things to him I didn't have to,” she said. “The handler that previously had him [said] just watch him, so I gave him the leash and he did it on his own.”

She said she would hover over top of him, like a helicopter parent. She would direct him to objects that either didn't require being searched or that Nido hadn't indicated as an object of interest. “He's taught me to trust him and let him do his thing, read him and if he needs help he will let me know he needs help,” Meyer said. She learned to be patient with him, to stay calm which built a bond allowing him to communicate to her.

She speaks about this bond with reverence, indicating that it may be an experience only understood by other military working dog handlers. “I just learned it travels down leash,” she said about how her emotions can affect how the dog preforms. “He teaches me, ‘hey don't get stressed, relax, be cool,’ because the stress will travel down the leash. If it travels down the leash it will go to him and he's like ‘what are you doing, calm down’”

The bond between Meyer and Nido is obvious to those who are looking. He's constantly focused on a need for gratification that can only be provided by his master. The special way she ruffs up his fur. The high pitch and cadence change in her voice when she's praising him from afar. The calm and subtle way she says yes, giving him permission to take his reward. There is pride in her voice and a twinkle in her eye as she speaks about her friend.

“Nido, he's a cuddler, he's sweet, he loves attention, he loves to please his handler and it's cool how he flips that switch from protection to patrol,” she said.

“Yes they are [security] tools, but they are dogs and as a dog they have needs,” Meyer said. “They need to breathe and eat, but they also need to be comforted, they need attention, they need love.”

One of our newest “ Old Dawgs” and former “Pup” TSgt Mary Boyer supports the team during their deployment. Welcome aboard Team Nido!

Team Frenky is deployed from the 355th SFS, Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona and Kenten Yates, a kennelmate and one of our new “Old Dawgs” will support them downrange during this deployment. Is this anyway to run an airline – you bet!

MWD Frenky seems to be settling in very well on his first deployment. He’s making sure his eye protection is “good to go” and he sure knows how to strike a pose! Yup, he’s the good looking one on this team! Sorry SSgt Rowlett – we just couldn’t miss this opportunity to rib you.

Undisclosed Location Southwest Asia #12 – ASG KU DES – U. S. Army

Our “Signature” Thailand Handler gifts have arrived at the ASG KU DES for SGT Travis Hawthorne and MWD Greco (Skip Davis 48th IPSD), and SPC Raven Vignati and MWD Max (Nikky Rohrig MWD TSA), and SPC Dakota Scott and MWD Levi (Bruce Bond 58th IPSD). The gifts included our OD&P Signature Leatherman Surge, OD&P coin and patch. Here is our “Army of three”!

Our POC at this location, Raven Vignati sent us this response to our gifts. Thank you SO much!!! These are so amazing. We are so grateful and appreciate it so, so much. Phil (Carroll) it's been so great exchanging pictures and learning about how everything was when you were a dog handler. I attached some pictures unfortunately were all on different shifts so Dakota couldn't make it when Travis and myself took a picture but Travis is with his MWD Greco and Dakota is with his MWD Levi and then of course my MWD Max! Thank you so much for supporting us on this deployment we are so grateful.

MSgt Pablo Martinez and partner MWD Argo F590 reunite

SSgt Pablo Martinez and MWD Argo – 2006 in Iraq

We just received this message from one of our first pups from 2006, then SSgt Pablo Martinez. “Fifteen years ago Argo and I were united as a team. After extensive research and countless phone calls my wife was able to track down Argos remains. As a gift, today (February 14, 2018) she reunited me with my best friend. I'm overwhelmed. I had to tell someone. He's displayed in my living room. And yes that Kong was Argos actual Kong that he and I had in Iraq together. I've kept it all these years.

Thanks Sarge for sharing this news with Old Dawgs & Pups. The Rainbow Bridge really does exist on earth. Partners that serve together are never forgotten. Rest in peace MWD Argo, yes you were and are a hero.

Military Working Dog Egon retires

By: jilliancoleman March 2, 2018 Comments Off on Military Working Dog Egon retires

Though military working dogs are considered to be Air Force equipment with a serial number tattooed on their ears, to the 72nd Security Forces Squadron they are loyal defenders in fur coats. Military working dogs risk their lives, sometimes making the ultimate sacrifice, and expect nothing in return other than a little love and affection. The K9 possesses a skill set unique to that of a human with their keen ability to detect bombs, drugs, weapons and criminals.

Left: Military Working Dog Egon P792 retired Feb. 23 after serving a distinguished seven-year career. Egon enlisted in the Air Force in 2010, specializing in patrol and explosives detection, and was assigned to the 72nd Security Forces Squadron Military Working Dog section in 2011. He was adopted by his handler, Staff Sgt. Carlton Isaacson, after 9,700 hours on duty, 4,000 random vehicle searches, 800 hours of K-9 presence at installation gates, 850 perimeter walking patrols, two deployments and eight Secret Service missions.

Right: Military Working Dog Egon P792 is joined on stage at the Base Theater by 72nd Security Forces Commander Lt. Col. Keith Quick, his handler Staff Sgt. Carlton Isaacson and the entire Military Working Dog section during his retirement ceremony Feb. 23, 2018.

The military working dogs are more than the equipment they are labeled as. They are American patriots and deserve the same honor and treatment given to our nation's heroes. So in that spirit, homage was paid to one of the nation's four-legged warriors as MWD Egon/P792 retired from Active Duty in a formal ceremony Feb. 23. Born on Oct. 10, 2008, Egon enlisted in the United States Air Force and was accepted by Security Forces Aug. 24, 2010. As a distinguished graduate from both explosive detection and patrol dog courses at Lackland Air Force Base, Egon was assigned to Tinker Air Force Base in August 2011, where he has served faithfully since.

In the last seven years, Egon tallied 9,700 hours on duty. Of those hours, he conducted 400 random vehicle inspections, searched 4,000 vehicles and spent 800 hours at installation gates. Additionally, Egon patrolled 1,000 buildings and performed 850 perimeter-walking patrols. On top of the countless hours working at home on Tinker, Egon has also deployed twice, providing protection for more than 2,000 coalition and joint forces. Throughout his support in Operation Inherent Resolve and Operation Enduring and Iraqi Freedom, Egon tacked on another 5,000 vehicles searched and 200 buildings patrolled, while also performing 600 random anti-terrorism measures facilitating uninterrupted combat operations. And finally, the K9 conducted eight secret service missions, capping an already impressive career with his protection of the President, First Lady and Vice President of the United States, as well as Pope Francis' first visit stateside.

Military Working Dog Egon retires (Continued)

By: jilliancoleman March 2, 2018 Comments Off on Military Working Dog Egon retires

Lt. Col. Keith Quick, 72nd Security Forces Squadron commander, commended Egon for his unwavering dedication and service to his country. “This is a very special day for me and a very special ceremony to be a part of,” Quick said. “We’re celebrating a successful and proud career. Egon will never know the impact he has had and it is for that reason we honor his service.” Seven years of service included various handlers, all sharing a different kind of inseparable bond with one another. The culmination of his career was time spent with Staff Sgt. Carlton Isaacson, a seasoned member of the military working dog section and Egon’s newly adopted dad. The ceremony ended with the passing of the leash, symbolizing the transition from Active Duty into retirement. Egon will always be a loyal companion, though this time around his service commitment will be with Sergeant Isaacson and his family.

“We thank Egon for his dedicated service, and thank Sgt. Isaacson for ensuring he has a nice and well-deserved retirement,” Quick said. “A retirement that includes a comfortable bed and not the cold kennel floors, eating many treats that his former strictly enforced diet used to prohibit, and playing with toys and catching the occasional cat instead of sniffing bombs. He has certainly earned it.”

Military Working Dog Egon proudly displays his Meritorious Service Medal while Senior Master Sgt. (Ret.) Pete Piazza gives closing remarks during Egon’s retirement ceremony Feb. 23. Egon enlisted in the Air Force in 2010, specializing in patrol and explosives detection, and was assigned to the 72nd Security Forces Squadron Military Working Dog section in 2011. He was adopted by his handler, Staff Sgt. Carlton Isaacson, after 9,700 hours on duty, 4,000 random vehicle searches, 800 hours of K-9 presence at installation gates, 850 perimeter walking patrols, two deployments and eight Secret Service missions.

Note/Later that day: Retired MWD Egon enjoys Fort Living Room – Welcome to retirement Egon! Skip Davis (58th IPSD) supported Team Egon during their tour with Old Dawgs & Pups.

Thank you for supporting our Old Dawgs & Pups troops!

Thank you to MWD TSA, U. S. War Dogs, and VFW Post 7539, Bloomingdale, Illinois for the “Care Packages” that are arriving to all of the kennels and K-9 troops that we support in Southwest Asia. You guys are just damn awesome. Thanks for your continued support.

Feed the Dawgs Project 2018 Schedule

The Dawgs Project

<http://thedawgsproject.com/index.html>

We've finished up 2017! The Feed the Dawgs Project is a culmination of United States Military Vietnam Veterans, Active Duty Military Working Dog Personnel, and patriotic citizens joining together to support and recognize the dedication and patriotism of today's Military Working Dog Teams around the globe. The United States Air Force, Army, Coast Guard, Marines, and Navy deploy Military Working Dogs. We feed steak barbecues to active military dog handlers in all branches of United States service as they return from or "ship out" for "deployment" to the front lines on the War on Terror.
